This is a digital copy of a book that was preserved for generations on library shelves before it was carefully scanned by Google as part of a project to make the world's books discoverable online.

It has survived long enough for the copyright to expire and the book to enter the public domain. A public domain book is one that was never subject to copyright or whose legal copyright term has expired. Whether a book is in the public domain may vary country to country. Public domain books are our gateways to the past, representing a wealth of history, culture and knowledge that's often difficult to discover.

Marks, notations and other marginalia present in the original volume will appear in this file - a reminder of this book's long journey from the publisher to a library and finally to you.

Usage guidelines

Google is proud to partner with libraries to digitize public domain materials and make them widely accessible. Public domain books belong to the public and we are merely their custodians. Nevertheless, this work is expensive, so in order to keep providing this resource, we have taken steps to prevent abuse by commercial parties, including placing technical restrictions on automated querying.

We also ask that you:

+ Make non-commercial use of the files We designed Google Book Search for use by individuals, and we request that you use these files for personal, non-commercial purposes.

+ Refrain from automated querying Do not send automated queries of any sort to Google's system: If you are conducting research on machine translation, optical character recognition or other areas where access to a large amount of text is helpful, please contact us. We encourage the use of public domain materials for these purposes and may be able to help.

+ Maintain attribution The Google "watermark" you see on each file is essential for informing people about this project and helping them find additional materials through Google Book Search. Please do not remove it.

+ Keep it legal Whatever your use, remember that you are responsible for ensuring that what you are doing is legal. Do not assume that just because we believe a book is in the public domain for users in the United States, that the work is also in the public domain for users in other countries. Whether a book is still in copyright varies from country to country, and we can't offer guidance on whether any specific use of any specific book is allowed. Please do not assume that a book's appearance in Google Book Search means it can be used in any manner anywhere in the world. Copyright infringement liability can be quite severe.

About Google Book Search

Google's mission is to organize the world's information and to make it universally accessible and useful. PREFACE

This First Reader is intended as a text-book and has been prepared with special reference to the needs of beginning classes. In such a book it is essential that the sentences be short and simple, that the thought be objective and intrinsically interesting to young children, and that the lessons be so graded that the pupil may pass by steps imperceptible to himself from the simple to the more difficult. It is believed that these requirements have been successfully met.

It is, furthermore, essential in a first reading book, designed to be used as a text-book, that only a few new words be presented in each succeeding lesson, that the lessons contain only words which have been taught, and that sufficient provision be made for the repetition of words to impress them on the mind of the pupil.

These are requirements which must be adhered to more rigidly in a text-book than in a book which is designed only for supplementary use, as all teachers of experience well know.

The classical literature of fairy tale and fable has been introduced in simple form in this book, and more generally in the other books of the series; but not to the exclusion of choice material in prose and poetry, which gives variety, interest and help to the work.

The most careful study has been given to the grading, that it may be easy and progressive through each book and throughout the series.

The illustrations show an intimate connection between the lessons and pictures. They have been selected and prepared to illustrate the text thoroughly, rather than for decorative purposes solely.

The diacritical marks used are found in the latest edition of Webster's International Dictionary. These marks appear as a valuable aid in the Second, Third and Fourth Books, but have been omitted as undesirable in the First Book, except in the vocabulary in the back of the book.

With these pedagogical features, representing the best principles of child study, it is believed that this book may be used with equal success with any method of teaching reading generally approved by the best teachers in primary schools, and that the progress of the pupil must be rapid and the task of the teacher must be greatly simplified.

See them fly to this tree!
This tree is near my window.
What kind of tree is this?
It is green all the year.
This is a cold day.
The little birds look cold.
They are glad to fly to this tree.
I will throw some seeds to them.
See them fly down to eat the seeds!
"Thank you for the seeds," they say.
"Now sing to me, little birds!"

Robin, robin, little robin,
Curled up on the winter bough,
Come! for I have crumbs to give you,
Nice good crumbs to give you now.

Snow is falling, falling, falling;
There is not a worm or fly
For your breakfast or your supper;
But we can not let you die.

Robin, robin, little robin,
All your songs were glad and sweet;
Come down hither to the door-step;
You shall have good crumbs to eat.

He is tall and white.
This is Mr. Snowman.
"How do you do, Mr. Snowman?
Do you like this cold day?"
"Yes; I do not like the warm sun."
"Can you walk, Mr. Snowman?"
"No; I should like to walk and run."
"I will make you run," said the sun.
The day grew warm.
Mr. Snowman grew little.
Then he ran away to the brook.

We will go into his tent.
What have you here, Frank?
O, look! see what Frank has!

"This is my white bear," said Frank.

"What a big white bear that is!
O, I never saw one like that."

"Here is my big lion," said Frank.

"O, I shall run from your lion.
Where did you get that lion?"

"This is my ostrich."

"Your ostrich is a tall bird."

Frank was only playing.

He did not have a lion.

He did not have a bear.

He did not have an ostrich.

What do you think he did have?

The little white kitten was his bear.

Papa's big dog was Frank's lion.

Helen's little bird was his ostrich.

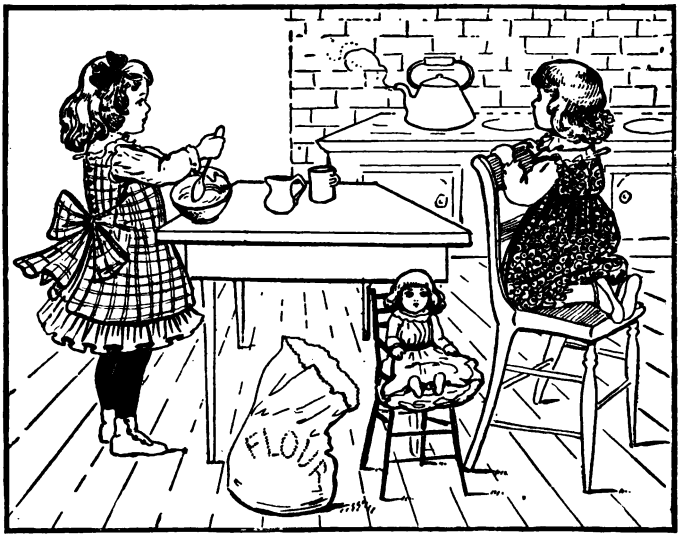
One day Papa put us on Jack's back.

We were little boys then.

We were only three years old.

Jack saw us get on his back.
We said to him, "Get up, Jack!
Get up! get up! go fast!"
But Jack would not go fast.
He knew we should fall,
if he would go fast.
He knew we were little boys.
Jack would not let us fall.
We all love Jack. Come here, Jack!
I will give you some apples.



roses flour cake to-day

Grace, what are you going to do?

I am going to make a cake.

Can you make a cake?

O yes; I can make a good cake.

What do you put into your cake?

I have put in some milk.

I have put some eggs into my cake.
Mamma tells me to put in flour.
Your cake will be good, I know.
What are you going to do with it?
I will tell you. Do not tell my doll.
My doll is two years old to-day.
I have made this cake for her.
I am going to give her a party.
We shall have this cake to eat.
I shall put roses on the cake.
I shall have two red roses.
You know she is two years old.
I think two roses will be pretty.
It is a little cake. I like it.
If you will come, I shall be glad.
We will give you some of the cake.

water	moon	round
shines	far	bright

O come to the window, Helen!
See the bright, pretty moon.
Look out on the water, Helen.
The moon shines on the water.
How big and round the moon looks!
Did it look round when it was new?
Is the moon near us?
No; the moon is far, far away.

THE MOON.

O, look at the moon,
  She is shining up there ;
O, Mother, she looks
  Like a lamp in the air.

Last week she was smaller,
  And shaped like a bow ;
But now she's grown bigger,
  And round like an O.

ELIZA LEE FOLLEN.

light God heat

How bright the sun is to-day!
See the bright sun up in the sky.
The sun gives light to us.
The sun gives heat to us.
Birds like the bright sun.
The flowers like the bright sun.
I like to play when the sun shines.
The sun is far, far away.
We thank God for the bright sun.

hat	wind	rains
time	paper	boat

It rains fast and the wind blows.
There is no school to-day.
We will play in the house.
We will have a good time.
Will you give us some paper, Mamma?
We can make paper dolls.
Look, Grace, and see what I have made!
This is a hat for your doll.
I made it of this red paper.
If you like it you may have it.
I will make a hat for my kitten.
Here is a paper boat, too.
I will put the paper doll in it.

store	much	please
cents	again	fine

Now we will play store.

We like to play store.

Have you some paper dolls?

How much is this doll, please?

That doll is five cents.

Here is a big doll for ten cents.

I will take the little doll.

Here are the five cents.

Thank you.

Have you hats for paper dolls?

O yes, I have some fine hats.

Please show me your hats.

How much is this red hat?

That best red hat is two cents.

I have five hats for three cents.

I like your little hats.

I will take five paper hats.

My sister has five paper dolls.

So I will get five hats for them.

Here are the three cents.

Good-by! You have a fine store.

Good-by! Please come again.

REVIEW.

My Papa has a boat.

It is blue and white.

It is a pretty boat.

Four of us will take a ride.

Ask Mamma if we may go.

We can have a fine boat ride!

How we like to ride!

Will you take the little dog?

Yes, the little white dog can go.

I will take my doll with me.

We like to ride on the water.

O what fun this is! I like it.

Now play we can not see the land!

We will ride on, and on, and on.

We will ride to the land of snow.

It is cold in that land.

Now we will ride back again.

Now, ride to the land of flowers!

It is warm in the land of flowers.

Now let us come home.

On and on we will ride.

Now we will ride to see Mamma.

Grandpa

Do you see us?

Grandpa has been at work in his garden.

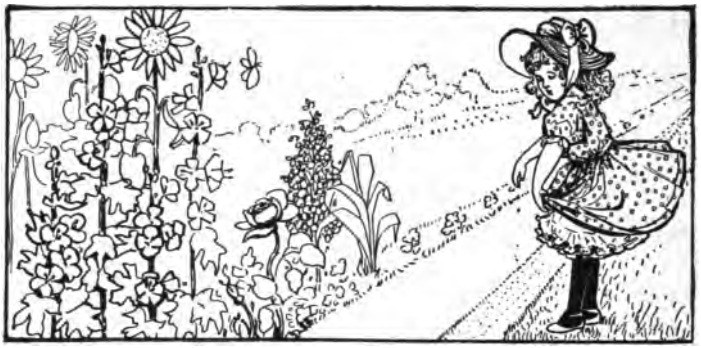
Now he will give us a ride.

This is my little sister.

Her doll is with her, you see.

Grandpa likes to give us a ride.

It is fun to ride like this.
Do you see my fine whip?
Did you ever see a whip like this?
See the little dog run and jump!
Did you ever have a ride like this?
Where do you think we are going?
We are going to the barn.
Grandpa goes fast with us.
You go fast with us, Grandpa.
I did not think you could go so fast.
You will not let us fall; will you?
O no; he will not let us fall.
I like to have him go fast.
Grandpa loves my sister and me.
Have you a dear Grandpa?
Will your Grandpa play with you?



drink plant roots

leaves ground

I have a little flower-garden.
I will plant some seeds to-day.
I will put them into the ground.
The rain will come. Seeds like rain.
The sun will warm the ground.
Soon there will be some white roots.
Then up will come two little leaves.
They will like the rain and sun.

Soon I shall have some tall flowers.
I shall give them water to drink.
Flowers like water to drink.
Soon I shall have some red roses.
Do you like red roses?

Good-morrow, pretty rosebush!
I pray you tell me true,
To be as sweet as a red, red rose
What must a body do?

To be as sweet as a red, red rose,
A little girl like you
Just grows, and grows, and grows, and grows,
And that's what she must do.

MARY MAPES DODGE.

ocean	shells	by sand	colors	had

Fred and I are down by the ocean.

We love to play by the water.

Do you like to play in the sand?

We get pretty shells on the sand.

There are pretty colors on the shells.

We are glad this big boat is here.

We have had good fun playing with it.

Now see me go! One, two, three!

kite hold field

over high

The wind blows to-day.
This is a good day to fly a kite.
A kite will go up well to-day.
Fred has made a fine kite.
Come, let us run down to the field.
Hold up the kite as high as you can.
When you throw it, I will run.
One, two, three! Now let it go!
Now run as fast as you can! Run, run!
Away goes the kite up over the trees!
What makes a kite go up?
"Where are you going, Mr. Kite?"
"Up to the moon," said he.

wheel help

mill hear meal stones

Come with me down to the brook.
Hear the brook sing to us, as it runs over the stones!
I like to hear the brook sing.
This brook runs on to the ocean.
I have a water wheel down here in this brook.

Here it is. I made this wheel.

" That is a fine wheel," said Fred.

Look! see the water go over it!

Round and round the wheel goes.

The water makes it go round.

My Papa has a mill.

Let us play we have a mill, too.

Play this is the mill wheel.

We take the corn to the mill.

The corn is ground into fine meal.

Then we take the meal home.

Mamma makes corn cakes with the meal.

They are very sweet and good.

We like to eat the corn cakes.

The wheel, the mill, the brook, all help to make the bread.

try	helped	yarn
peep	these	came

Two little birds made a pretty nest.
Little Helen helped them make it.
What did Helen do for them?
She put some yarn under the trees.
The yarn was for the birds' nest.
The little birds saw the yarn.

"What fine yarn for a nest!" they said.
"This will help to make a warm nest."
They were glad to have this yarn.
One day, what did Helen see?
I think you can guess, if you try.
She saw four eggs in the nest.
They were pretty, little, blue eggs.
One day, Helen saw some little birds.
There were four baby birds in the nest.
They said to her, "Peep, peep, peep."
She said, "O you dear little birds!"
"O Mamma," she said, "do come here!"
"Come, and see these dear little birds."
Mamma came to look at them.
They said, "Peep, peep, peep," to Mamma.
By and by they will fly away.

swing

Guess what Papa did for us.
He put up a swing for us.
It is out under the apple tree.
You can see our swing out there.
Will you go out and swing?
Here we are! Now you get in.
Do you like to swing? O yes!

Now I will swing you high.
Do you like to swing very high?
O yes! I wish I could swing to the top of the tree.
Up to the green leaves now we go.
Now I am down again! See me go?
I like to swing high, like this.
You get in now. I will swing you.
I will swing you as high as I can.
I will let my doll swing with you.
She likes to swing high with you.
Swing, swing as high as the little birds fly.
O let us give the kitty a swing!
Do you like to swing, little kitty?
No, I do not like it. Take me out.

THE SWING.

How do you like to go up in a swing,
  Up in the air so blue?
O I do think it the pleasantest thing
  Ever a child can do!

Up in the air and over the wall,
  Till I can see so wide,
Rivers and trees and cattle, and all
  Over the country side.

Till I look down on the garden green,
  Down on the roof so brown;—
Up in the air I go flying again,
  Up in the air and down.

ROBERT LOUIS STEVENSON.

why dish

chick dinner

Robert chickens

Robert, where are you? I want you.
O, come out to the barn with me,
I have some corn for the chickens.
Chick, chick, chick! Come here!
Where is your Mamma? O here she comes! I will throw some corn for her.
That little one runs as fast as he can.
See him come for his dinner.

Some of them try to fly.
See the little white chicken run!
Here is a black one. Look at him.
Our chickens are all here, now,
Here is your dinner, little chickens.
The little chicks do not like corn.
They like corn meal with water.
Do not get into the dish, chick!
O there he is, in the dish!
O chick, chick, get out of the dish!
Why will these chicks get into the dish?
Do you like your good dinner?
"Peep, peep, peep," the chickens said.
That was "Yes, yes, yes!"
We thank you for our dinner.
Please come again very soon.

angel	kiss	alone	grow
face	another	pansy	left

A little flower grew far away.
No one came to see that pretty flower.
One day a good angel saw the flower.
She gave it a sweet kiss.
"You are very pretty," she said.
"Why do you grow here all alone?
Come away from here. Come with me.
You can do good to all.
We shall all love you very much."
The angel gave the flower another kiss.
She left a picture of her face on the pretty flower.
We can see her picture on the pansy.
We all love this pretty face.

seen still found hide-and-seek looked

O, where is my little sister?

Have you seen her?

Do you know where to look for her?

I do not know where she is.

We are playing hide-and-seek.

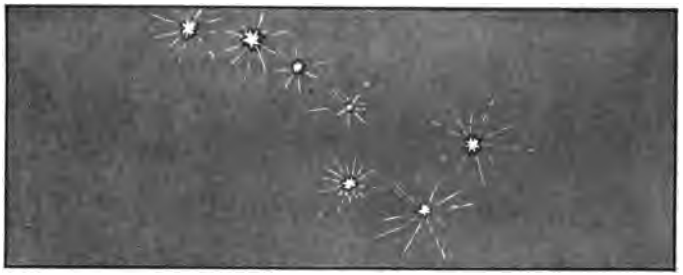
Now I will look for my sister.
Where are you, little sister?
Speak to me! Tell me where you are!
She will not tell me where she is.
You see how still she is!
I have looked in the barn.
I have looked in the house.
Then I looked in the big cart.
She is not there. Where can she be?
Now, where shall I look?
O, I will look in the garden.
There she is! I have found her.
O, I see you now! I see you!
There you are! There you are!
I see you, little sister!
I see you there, in the tall flowers.

cut	wash	dress	lambs
wool	soft		grass

Grandpa has four little lambs.
Little Grace will go and see them.
How the little lambs run to Grace!
They run fast on the soft green grass.
In a year the lambs will be big. Then grandpa will take them to the brook.

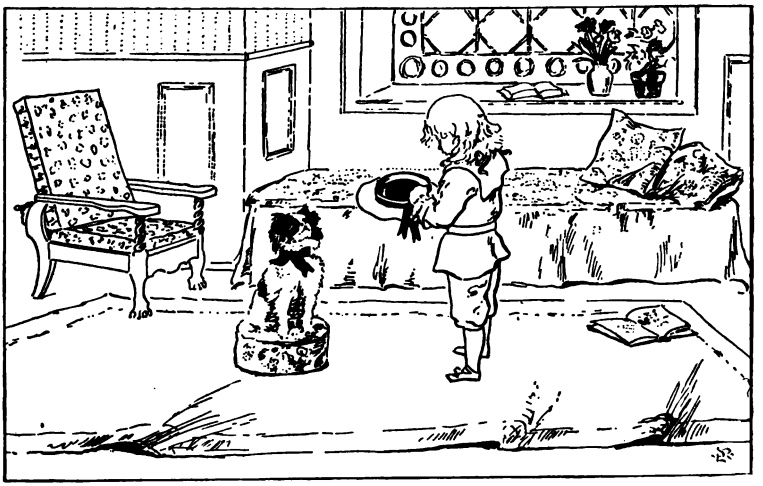
He will wash their wool very white.
Then he will cut their wool.
He will take the wool to a mill.
Then, what is made from it?
Little Grace has on a warm dress.
Her dress is made of wool.
The lambs gave Grace her dress.

Baa! baa! black sheep!
Have you any wool?
Yes, sir; yes, sir;
Three bags full.
One for my master,
One for my dame,
One for the little boy
That lives in the lane.



night stars count those

We can see the stars at night.
O, look up into the sky!
See the bright stars up there!
How many stars we can see!
I wish I knew how many there are!
Let us try to count them.
O, we can not count so many.
Count those bright stars over there.
One, two, three, four, five, six, seven.
Tell me what those seven stars look like.



"A little boy was dreaming,
Upon his nurse's lap,
That the pins fell out of all the stars,
And the stars fell into his cap.
So when his dream was over,
What did that little boy do?
Why, he went and looked inside his cap,
And found it was not true."

tick-tock	once	hall
clock	hide	find

Edith has come to see her Grandma.
In the hall there is a tall clock.
Edith likes to go to this old clock.
"What a tall clock this is!" said she.
Edith looked into the big clock.
The clock said, "Tick-tock! Tick-tock!"
Once Edith was playing hide-and-seek.
"Where shall I hide?" she said.
"O I will get into this clock!"
Edith did get into the big clock.
Then, how still she was!
Mamma said, "Where can my little girl be?
Where are you, Edith? Where are you?"
Edith did not speak. She was very still.

Mamma looked here and there.
She could not find her little girl.
"I cannot find you," said Mamma.
Then Edith looked out of the clock.
"O there you are!" said Mamma.
"I did not think you were in there."

Hickory, dickory, dock,
The mouse ran up the clock.
The clock struck one,
And down he run,
Hickory, dickory, dock.

Ruth fish fire best took

Two little girls have come to see Ruth.

They like to come to see Ruth.

One day the three girls took a walk.

They said, "Let us go to the woods."

They took a basket with them.

In the basket was some bread.

Mamma gave them some apples.

She put some cake into the basket.
They had some milk and some eggs.
They had some oranges, too.
By and by they came to a brook.
"O what a pretty brook this is!"
Then they came to the woods.
"Let us eat our dinner here," said Ruth.
Some one had cut down a tree.
"We can have this tree for our table.
What a good table it will make!"
By and by they saw a man.
"Who is that?" said Ruth.
"It is my Papa!" she said.
She ran up to him.
"Where have you been?" she said to him.
"I have been to the brook," said her Papa.

"I have some fish for you.
I knew you would be down here.
May I have my dinner with you?"
"O yes, yes," said all the girls.
"We are so glad you are here."
"Would you like some fish for your dinner?"
"O yes," said Ruth, "that will be good!"
"I will make a fire for you," said he.
The girls saw him make the fire.
Then he put the fish into a dish.
He put the dish over the fire.
"O, this fish will be good," said Papa,
"Come, girls, let us eat our dinner."
"What a fine dinner this is!" said Papa.
"It is the best I ever had."

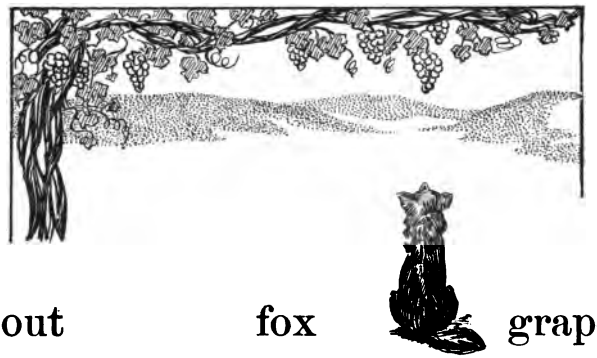
cars	rode	swans
went	park	lake

Where have you been, little girls?
We have been to ride in the cars.
We have been down to the ocean.
Ruth found some pretty shells there.
Then we went into the water.
What fun we had in the water!

Now we are going to the park.
What a pretty lake there is in the park!
Ruth said, "See the pretty white boats!"
"Those are swan-boats," said Helen.
"We will have a ride on one of them."
The girls rode up and down the lake.
They saw some pretty white swans.
"Now let us go and see the lions!
We will see them eat!" said Helen.
"Here comes the man with their meat.
That big lion looks as if he would jump for it."
"Come, let us see the big white bear!"
"Is it not warm for you here, Mr. Bear?"
Then the girls saw a tall ostrich.
They had never seen so tall a bird.

own lost bridge greedy jumped

One bright day a dog had some meat.
"This is fine meat," he said.
"I will take it home and eat it."
He had to go over a brook.
By and by he was on the bridge.
He looked down into the still water.
He saw his picture in the water.
He said, "O, here is another dog;
This dog has some meat, too.
My meat is not so good as his.
I will have his meat, too," he said.
He jumped to get it.
When he jumped, he lost his own meat.
Do you think he was greedy again?



about fox grapes

must sour wants

I will tell you about a fox:
One day he saw some fine grapes.
They were up very high.
How he did wish for some of them!
"I must have some," he said.
He jumped, and jumped, and jumped.
He could not get the grapes.
"O well! who wants them!" he said.
"They are sour; I do not want them."

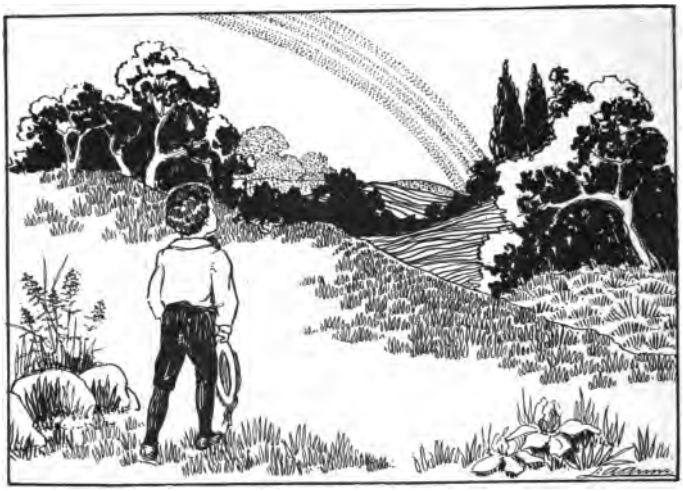
What does little birdie say,
In her nest at peep of day?
Let me fly, says little birdie,
Mother, let me fly away.
Birdie, rest a little longer,
Till the little wings are stronger.
So she rests a little longer,
Then she flies away.

What does little Baby say,
In her bed at peep of day?
Baby says, like little birdie,
Let me rise and fly away.
Baby, sleep a little longer,
Till the little limbs are stronger.
If she sleeps a little longer,
Baby, too, shall fly away.

ALFRED TENNYSON.

rainbow drops violet beautiful

"Come, girls, and see this beautiful rainbow!
See! the clouds are all going away!"
"What makes the rainbow so pretty?"
"The sun shines on the drops of rain."
"How many colors are there?"
"One, two, three, four, five, six."
"What are they? Can you tell me?"
"Violet, blue, green, yellow, orange, red."
"What flowers are like these colors?
What birds are like these colors, too?"



pot	gold	rained
foot	sat	walked

Did you ever hear this story?
Once there was a little boy.
His home was in a land far away.
Some one said, "A pot of gold is at the foot of the rainbow."

This little boy said, "I will get that pot of gold.
I will get it when I see the rainbow again."
Once it rained all day.
The little boy looked for the rainbow.
By and by, the sun was seen again.
"O there is the rainbow!" said the boy.
Then the little boy put on his hat.
And he walked, and walked, and walked.
"That rainbow is far, far away," he said.
By and by he grew very tired.
The rainbow was still far away.
So the boy sat down on the grass.
He was very, very tired.
His Mamma found him fast asleep.
Do you think he ever found the pot of gold?

slow quick race hare

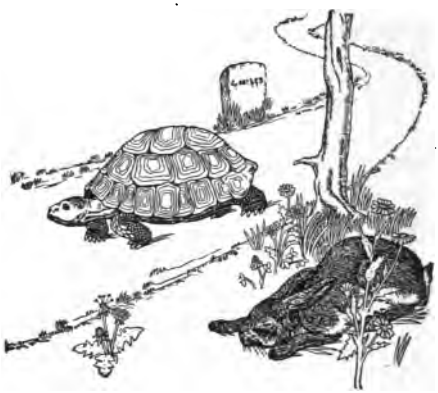
nap fellow

first tortoise



I will tell you about a hare.
The hare is a quick fellow.
He can run very fast.
The tortoise is a slow fellow.
He can not run fast.
The hare and the tortoise had a race.
They were to run to a tree.
The hare ran on very fast.
"The tortoise is so slow!" said the hare.
"I can take a nap," the hare said.

"I shall get to the tree first.
I can take a little nap now."
Soon he was fast asleep.
But the tortoise did not take a nap.
With slow steps, the tortoise came on.
He soon came up to the hare.
He saw the hare, in the soft grass.
"Well!" said he, "the hare is fast asleep!
I will not take a nap, not I!"
He went on and on, with slow steps.
By and by he came to the tree!
Then the hare looked up.
He saw the tortoise near the tree.
How the hare did jump and run then!
But the tortoise was at the tree first.
Would you be the tortoise, or the hare?

spring hole squirrel sugar sap

A little Indian boy went into the woods.
It was a warm day in the spring.
The boy saw a little squirrel in the tree.
The squirrel said, "Do not shoot me!
I will tell you about this tree.
You will be glad to know what is in it.
Some sweet sap is in this tree.

Would you like to know how to get the sweet sap?

I will tell you how to get it.

Make a hole in this tree," said the squirrel.

The boy made a hole in the tree.

Then the sap ran out from the tree.

"Catch the sap in the dish," said the squirrel.

"Run home, and put it over the fire."

The boy ran home, as fast as he could.

He put the dish on the fire.

By and by the sap was like sugar.

This was the first maple sugar ever made.

From that time, the Indians were very kind to the squirrel.

met off North coat strong

One day Mr. North Wind met the sun.
He said, "See me. I am strong. You are not so strong as I am.
I can make that man take off his coat," said Mr. North Wind.
"I will blow, and blow, and blow."
"O how cold it is!" said the man,
"I am glad I have on my warm coat."
He did not take off his coat.
Then the sun said, "Let me try!
I will shine, and shine, and shine!"
"O how warm it is!" said the man,
"I must take off this warm coat."
And off his coat came at once.

game Red Riding Hood wolf bed cape fur cap says

Robert and Helen are playing the game of Little Red Riding Hood.

Robert has on Papa's fur coat. He plays he is the wolf.

Grace has on a white cap. She plays she is the dear old Grandma.

She is in bed, and plays she is fast asleep.

Helen has on a red hood and cape, for she is Little Red Riding Hood.

She plays she is in the woods.

Robert comes up to her, and says, "Where are you going, little girl?"

"I am going to take this cake to my Grandma," said Red Riding Hood.

"Where is your Grandma's house?" said the wolf to her.

"It is down by the mill in the woods," said Red Riding Hood.

"Good-by," said the wolf and away he ran to Grandma's house.

For some time they play this game.

Do you know about Red Riding Hood?

Can you tell me more about her?

butterfly	every	woke friends	poor	long

One day a bird saw a butterfly.

"How beautiful you are!" said the bird.

"How I like to look at you!

Do let us be friends; I love you."

"Once you did not love me," the butterfly said. "Once you were not kind to me. You said I was a poor fellow."

"O, I never could have said that," said the bird. "I love all who are beautiful."

"You may love me now," said the butterfly, "but when you said I was a poor fellow, I was not so beautiful."

"How can this be?" said the bird.

"I will tell you. I took a long nap. I was asleep when the days were cold.

One bright day in the spring, I woke.

I found I could fly. I did not have on my old coat. I had on this new, beautiful coat.

Will you come to the flower-garden with me?

I will be your friend. But you must be kind to every one you see. Do not do by them as you did by me."
